

BRUSSELS PRIVACY SYMPOSIUM

EXPLORING THE INTERSECTION OF DATA PROTECTION AND COMPETITION LAW

Presented by

BRUSSELS
PRIVACY
HUB

November 19, 2019 • Vrije Universiteit Brussel
Brussels, Belgium

AGENDA

(as of October 31)

9:30 – 10:00	Registration
10:00 – 10:15	Welcome & Introductions • Christopher Kuner, Co-Director, Brussels Privacy Hub • Jules Polonetsky, CEO, Future of Privacy Forum
10:15 – 12:00	Boot Camp: Fundamentals of EU Competition Law A special educational session guided by competition law and data protection law specialists aimed at introducing the fundamentals of EU Competition Law to privacy professionals. • Nicolo Zingales, Associate Professor, Competition and Information Law, Leeds Law School • Orla Lynskey, Associate Professor of Law, London School of Economics and Political Science
12:00 – 13:00	Lunch Break
13:00 – 13:30	Setting the Scene: Panel Overview • Orla Lynskey, Associate Professor of Law, London School of Economics and Political Science • Peter Swire, Georgia Institute of Technology, FPF Senior Fellow
13:30 – 14:30	Panel 1: Competition in Data-Driven Markets A moderated panel of academics and industry professionals discuss critical markets questions: Is personal data a barrier to entry to digital markets? What are the implications of data-sharing and interoperability from a data protection perspective? Are new limits on data-driven mergers desirable? What is the role of data protection in competition analysis and of competition analysis in data protection? CHAIR: Joris von Hoboken, Professor of Law, Vrije Universiteit Brussels • Marianela Lopez-Galdos, Global Competition Counsel, Computer & Communications Industry Association (CCIA) • Mark MacCarthy, Senior Fellow, Institute for Technology Law and Policy, Georgetown Law • Alexandros Papanikolaou, DG Competition, European Commission
14:30 – 15:30	Panel 2: Excessive Pricing, Value, and Personal Data in the Digital Environment A moderated panel of academics and industry professionals discuss the crossroads of data and law, such as: How does the value of data figure in competition analysis? What are the differences between valuation of data by consumers and by companies? Could competition law provisions on excessive pricing or unfair trading place limits on data collection by dominant companies? How is 'excess' measured or determined? How does data minimization fit in? CHAIR: Alison Jones, Professor of Law, King's College London • Giorgio Monti, Professor of Law, Tilburg Law School • David Martin, Senior Legal Officer, BEUC, European Consumer Organisation • Gabriela Zafir-Fortuna, Senior Counsel, Future of Privacy Forum
15:30 – 15:45	Coffee Break

15:45 – 16:45	Panel 3: Remedies and Institutional Design A moderated panel of government agencies, civil society, and academics discuss the role and reach of competition authorities, questions include: Are current data protection and competition remedies up to the task of ensuring fair digital markets? Should DPAs deploy an antitrust toolbox with structural remedies in privacy cases? Are competition authorities in the EU well-equipped to make data protection considerations and if so, are they stepping into an exclusive competence of data protection authorities? Do DPAs and competition authorities have the tech expertise needed to address issues like machine learning and AI? CHAIR: Christian d'Cunha, Private Office of the European Data Protection Supervisor • Karolina Mojzesowicz, Deputy Head, Data Protection Unit, DG Justice and Consumers, European Commission • Ethan Levisohn, Attorney Advisor for Commissioner Noah Phillips, U.S. Federal Trade Commission • Hielke Hijmans, Chairman, Litigation Chamber, Belgian DPA • Alessia D'Amico, Advisor, Privacy International, PhD Candidate, EUI Florence
16:45 – 17:00	Closing Remarks
17:00 – 18:00	Closing Reception

The Brussels Privacy Symposium would not be possible without the generous support of our sponsors:

